Dear Harold,

It was a pleasure speaking with you today.

Enclosed is a copy of Lardner's story in today's Post to pass along to Dave Wrone. It's hard to believe it has taken this long to put the film out. I'm bracing for the crazies.

I don't think I got a chance to tell you on the phone that I know Lardner's son, Rich, quite well. Like his old man, he's a fine reporter. They've had a tough time since the George Lardner's daughter was murdered.

Again, I'll call ahead before we come up to see you. I'm hoping that will be soon.

My best to you and your wife.

Warmest regards,

George
